

Still flying above

Please, forgive me, lovely Angel,
But I didn't see you leaving
Cause at the sky I was looking
And it was not the right candle

You called me but I didn't hear
Flying away by the other side
And I didn't feel you my dear
Gently gently leaving my mind

The brilliant sun blinded my eyes
Was not able to understand
Deep in my heart now my love flies
Searching so hard for your sweet hand

*So long pretty bird,
Please don't forget the love
Once I gave you,
It's still flying above*

I know I'm not the only one
So many people are loving you
I hope someday you'll find the man
The man who's only born for you

Believed so hard I was that one
I couldn't feel your emptiness
Forgot always the sweet wild swan
Is looking for more tenderness

But if sometimes you feel lonely
Cause you can't find your true love nest
You know where your home country is
My arms are ready for your rest

*So long pretty bird,
Please don't forget the love
Once I gave you,
It's still flying above*

Come back my love, come back Angel
We'll light the fires of happiness
Life is always a rebirth sail
We'll blow the wind of loveliness
